

UGA Physics and Astronomy - Departmental News

The department of Physics and Astronomy held its annual honors day for the graduate students in the department on Thursday April 22, 2004. The reception began at 4 PM in the Lobby of the Physics building, and it was attended by the graduate students, faculty and staff. During the reception Dr. H.-B. Schuttler, head of the Department, presented the Department's awards to the following outstanding students:

Kelly Patton was awarded the 9th Cummings Memorial Award for Outstanding Graduate Student and Teaching Assistant. The award is a $1,000 honorarium donated by the family of Bill Cummings and a framed certificate. Kelly's advisor is Prof. Michael Geller.